

Wisconsin Women in Higher Education Leadership

What is WWHEL?

Wisconsin Women in Higher Education Leadership, founded in 1997, is a virtual “wheel” that connects women to networks and opportunities to grow as leaders in higher education. Our goal is to actively contribute to improving the status of women faculty, staff, administrators and students in Wisconsin two- and four-year campuses, public universities, technical colleges, tribal colleges, and private colleges and universities – all of which are represented on our Board of Directors. WWHEL is affiliated nationally with the American Council on Education (ACE) through the ACE Office of Women in Higher Education.

WWHEL provides women with:

- Opportunities to develop specific skills
- Connect with colleagues who can provide valuable insight into the administrative role
- Identify career development contacts
- Access to state and national resources
- An annual fall state conference and spring workshop

WWHEL also works with WWHEL chapters and women’s organizations on campuses to support local and regional efforts.

WWHEL Grants and Awards

WWHEL presents an annual Outstanding Achievement Award at the fall state conference to a woman who has advanced the cause of Wisconsin women in higher education. WWHEL also provides Professional Development Grants to women attending local, state and national leadership programs, provides regional workshops each spring, and offers chapter stipends to member institutions to encourage local leadership activities on campus. See wwhel.org for information and applications.

The wheel-shaped logo is a Nightstar design, the work of artist and teacher Nancy Blair. The Nightstar is an adaptation of a Minoan impression from 2000 B.C. It represents an ancient society in Greece where people lived in harmony with nature and each other and women held positions of power throughout the community. Women were architects, queens, builders, storytellers, healers, poets, artists and engineers.
